Focus on the Shopper

Consumers participate in shopping rituals because they are seeking ideas, solutions, and value. As they move around your store, you have the perfect opportunity to message, inspire, and motivate. Video and animation provide an effective method for capturing their attention with targeted messaging.

Digital signage enables you to easily target this messaging based on time of day, customer demographics, or dynamically by what is being purchased. It allows you to easily get the right message to the right audience at the right time.

The Hughes Digital Promo Board helps minimize upfront costs with a turnkey operational service program that reduces budgeting concerns and complications. It allows you to deploy digital media where and when it is most beneficial. You can grow worry-free, at your own pace, and within your budget.

Focus on the Shopper

Digital media allows you to use video, animation, sound, and other rich-media tools to create a message that evokes powerful emotions. When messages generate emotion, they are more likely to be remembered and influence the target audience to action.

No matter the intended audience, your primary communications goal is to deliver your message in a way that impacts and influences viewers. The Hughes Digital Promo Board makes delivering that message easy—leaving you free to focus on running and growing your business.
